

Figure 1 displays a 10x10 grid of small plots, each representing the probability distribution of the number of infected individuals (x-axis, 0 to 10) over time (y-axis, 0 to 10). The plots show the distribution at each time step, with the distribution shifting to the right as time progresses, indicating the spread of the infection.